

Jeri L. Whitfield

Jeri Whitfield is a partner in the law firm of Smith Moore Leatherwood LLP practicing in Greensboro, North Carolina. Her practice focuses on general civil litigation and workers' compensation, handling cases before the trial and appellate courts and the North Carolina Industrial Commission. Ms. Whitfield is Board Certified in workers' compensation. She has extensive experience in litigating complex occupational disease claims. She attended George Washington University and Duke Law Schools, receiving her juris doctor degree with honors from George Washington University and receiving her B.S. degree with honors from Cornell University.

Ms. Whitfield has been selected by her peers for inclusion in the Best Lawyers in America for more than ten years, has Martindale-Hubbell's top AV peer review rating, and has been selected by Law and Politics magazine for inclusions in North Carolina Super Lawyers, Workers' Compensation including being recognized as one of the top 50 women attorneys in North Carolina.

She serves as a member of the Executive Committee of the Chief Justice's Commission on Professionalism, and is Vice-Chair of the Board of Legal Specialization of the North Carolina State Bar. She has also served on the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Bar Association Workers' Compensation Section and has served on the Board of Directors and as an officer of the North Carolina Association of Defense Attorneys. She has been President of the 18th Judicial District Bar and has continued to serve on the Nominating Committee.